Wickersham Tells Harvard Law Students of Aims of Government.

scribing the growth of Federal power over interstate commerce through the action of Congress and of the Supreme Court, and telling his hearers how to acquire the best equipment for the practical work of a lawyer's life, Attorney General Wickersham today spoke sore the Harvard Law School Association.

He took as his subject, "The Relation of Legal Education to Governmental

"The history of all nations," said he "indicates that at a certain period of national development it becomes necessary to interpose by legislation between the rapacity of individual greed and jus tice and fairness to the entire people.

Never before in any civilization of which we have a record has the ma-chinery of trade lent itself to such far-reaching control of great lines of industry by individuals or combination as at the present day. Nor ever before has it been possible to lay so direct a toll upon the entire public through the concentration of industrial power

Government Must Prevail,

The full significance of the attemp to check the growth of great combinations and monopolies, he said, was scarcely perceived at the time of the enactment of the Sherman anti-truct lew nor until successive interpretations of it had been given by the Supreme Court. He expressed his regret that the crippled condition of that court had prevented a decision in the Standard Oil and Tobacco Trust cases at the last

"It is greatly to be desired that they may be decided at an early date, and that the principles of the decision may be so clearly laid down as to afford a practicable standard of conduct, which, while securely protecting against the inwhile securely protecting against the in-evitable evils of great monopoly, and deliberate attempt to arbitrarily fix prices and stifle competition, will yet leave untrammeled avenues for the legitimate development of our domestic and foreign commerce."

and foreign commerce."

Referring approvingly to the railroad legislation en otted by the present Congress, particularly the excession of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the establishment of the commerce court, which he said introduced for the first time a mere flexible principle in the Federal judicial establishment, Wickersham said:

"Those who invest money in railroad, telegraph, telephone, or other transportation enterprises, are entitled to a reasonable and just return upon their"

Startling Developments Expected as Result of Conference Between Taft, Roosevelt, Hughes, and Bay State Solons After Harvard Commencement.

BOSTON, June 28.—With an unprecedented list of the big political figures of the nation due to arrive here within twenty-four hours, Bay State politicians look for some startling developments.

Former President Roosevelt is due here this afternoon, and President Taft and Governor Hughes tomorrow. It is reported that at least these three will meet in conference with Senators Crane and Lodge of Massachusetts, either at the latter's summer home at Nahant, at the summer White House at Beverly, or at Swampscott.
